PACIFICATION OF PLATT

THE FX-SENATOR COUNTED UPON TO DO WHAT HE CAN FOR HARRISON. Quay, Too, is Now Reynrded as Loyal to the Minnespolis Tick. VI, and There is Re-joicing in the Republican Camp-Judge Gresham Isn't Talking Politics. There was great rejoicing in both the national and State camps of the Republican organization last night over the news that Senstor Matthew Stanley Quay of Pennsylvania and ex-Senator Thomas Collier Platt of New York, who have held aloof from active participation in the Presidential campaign, have finally picked up their tongs and jumped on the Harrison ice wagon alongside Gen. James

Henry Carter from henceforth to Nov. 8 next. Hamilton Disston of Philadelphia brought the name of Mr. Onav's placation vesterday morning in the shape of a letter from the Pennsylvania Senator to Chairman Carter. So. happy was the Chairman that, though he had just returned from a two days' visit to Washington, he posted off at once to the Quaker City to consult with the man who so successfully conducted the Republican cam-

Clarkson to work hand in hand with Thomas

What Mr. Quay's message to Mr. Carter contained Mr. Disston would not say. He did say, however, that it had come to him through David Martin, the National Committee man for the Keystone State Republicans, and that it conveyed assurances which leave no doubt as to Mr. Quay's loyalty to the Republican Presidential ticket.

The fact that Mr. Platt's influence in the Republican party of this State had been duly reognized by the Administration was officially announced at the State headquarters in the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night. It was said that Mr. Platt had an interview with Chairman Hackett of the Republican State Executive Committee vesterday, at which the Republican leader made the first public declaration of his attitude toward the ticket since its nomination at Minneapolis.

Mr. Platt said that he would like an active part in the campaign in this State, and would aid the State Committee in every way in his power. Mr. Hackett expressed a lively satispower. Mr. Hackett expressed a lively satisfaction at this declaration. "If every professed Republican in the state were as good a partisan as Mr. Platt." said he, "there would be little doubt as to the result."

The interview between Mr. Platt and Mr. Hackett was held at Mr. Platt's down-town office restorday afternoon by appointment.

The effect of the announcement that Quay and Platt had decided to come into the fold was very noticeable at both 518 Fifth avenue and at State headquarters in the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The machinery which has been standing still, waiting for motive power, began to grind, and the wheels went round with a business-like whir for the first time. Fress Agent Lemuel Ely Quigg opened his bureau at national headquarters, but his typewriting force was not ready, so that he was unprepared to reel off information by the yard, as is his purpose to do in the future. For the first time since the establishment of headquarters the announcement was made that there was news to be given out.

since the establishment of headquarters the announcement was made that there was news to be given out.

Chairman Carter saw no one before his departure for Philadelphia, at 12:20 o'clock, but Mr. Disston and Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota. Gen. Ciarkson, and Richard C. Kerens, the Missouri member of the National Committee. It was whispered that one object of Mr. Carter's visit was to induce Senator Quay to lend the weight of his influence and experience for the benefit of the Executive Campaign Committee by joining it in an advisory capacity. So precipitate was the Chairman's departure for Philadelphia that he missed sceing Judgo A. H. Leonard and excongressman R. C. Miner of Louisana, who have had an appointment to discuss with him the subject of the National Committee's recognizing the Leonard faction of the Republicans in that State as regular, as against the faction headed by ex-Gov. Warmoth. The gentlemen aired their grievances before Gen. Clarkson and Secretary McComas.

Other visitors to the Republican national headquarters were: Capt. W. M. Meredith. Chief of the Eureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington: Postmaster W. W. Johnson of Baltimore, Harry C. New of the Indiananois Journet, and Major Alexander Shaw of Maryland. Chairman Carter will return to his desk to-day.

At the Henublican State Committee's head-quarters a list of visitors was given out including the names of Congressman Quackenbush of Troy, State Senators Joseph Mullin and John H. Derby, Assemblyman Milo M. Acker of Steuben, Col. H. E. Abell of Albany, and the Rev. Pr. William B. Derrick, and T. Thomas Fortune. Dr. Derrick will stump the State, despite the fact that he was defeated for redection as the colored member of the State Committee. Mr. Hackelt will be relieved to day by Chairman Brookheld and to-morrow will start for a week's vacation along the St. Lawrence.

One visitor who was looked for at 518 Fifth Gresham, but, although he was staying less than three blocks from the Republican national headquarters, he did not call on Gen. Clarkson. Judge Gresham had come over from Thompson, Conn., to visit Col. Robert Ingersoll, and had put, up, at the Windsor Ingersoil, and had put up at the Windsor Hotel for a few hours. He refused to be inter-viewed regarding his attitude in the national contest.

PLANNING THE CAMPAIGN.

The Western Hendquarters Scheme Under Consideration.

Chairman Don M. Dickinson of the Campaign Committee of the Democratic National Committee was one of the three members of that body who failed to attend the meeting which Mr. Dickinson called to be held at national headquarters, 139 Fifth avenue, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

In the absence of Chairman Dickinson, Mr. Harrity presided at the meeting, which lasted, with a slight intermission for luncheon, until o'clock last evening. It was thena stated that nothing had been accomplished by the committee, though much had been discussed. The principal subject for discussion was the request from Chicago. Democrats to establish a branch of the national headquarters in that city, in view of the fact that some of the Western and Northwestern States, heretofore safely Republican. are going to be contested this year, with inir prospect of success, aided by a special campaign fund which the Chicagoans would like very much to handle. The open raising of this fund is looked on with disfavor by Democrats who have Democratic success at heart, and there is much opposition to oncouraging the raising of the fund by estab-lishing branch headquarters in the West.

Knowing that Wisconsion and some of the States west of the Missouri offered promising chances of Democratic success, it had been the purpose of the committee, it is said.

Another caller who had business with the Campaign Committee was William J. Brennan, counsel for the Homestead striking steel-workers and Chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Allegheny county, Pa. It was in both capacities that he appeared before the committee.

was in both capacities that he appeared before the committee.

At first it was thought that the strikes would furnish the Democratic party with plenty of tatiff argument, and it was proposed to burdes; the campaign book to be issued by the committee with statistics relating to the iron and steel industry and the strikes.

All this was proposed with the idea, that the industry is a highly protected one and that the strikes were proof that protection does not protect workingmen. Now that the strikes are extending to industries which are not protected the argument is considered to have been spoiled.

BIG POLITICIANS IN POUGHKEEPSIE. Lou. Pays Seen in Close Consultation with Richard Croker, POUGEREEPSIE, Aug. 17.-There were a numper of big Democrats in Poughkeepsie yesterday. Edward Murphy, Jr., Chairman of the State Democratic Committee; Richard Croker. Police Commissioner Martin and Corporation Counsel Clark of New York, and Anthony N. Brady of Albany were among the number. They came to attend the Horse Breeders' Association trotting races, and while here they were the guests of Mr. J. W. Hinckley and met many of the prominent Democrats of Dutchess county. It is bolieved that more politics than horse was talked.

Louis F. Payn, the great anti-Harrison Republican, was seen in close consultation at the Nelson House last night with Messrs. Croker. Hinckley, and others. He arrived late in the evening and left early in the morning. He saw no one else while here. Payn's movements are always closely watched when he visits his old stamping grounds in Dutchess county, and it invariably turns out that there is quite some politics on hand when Payn makes one of his midnight visits to l'ough-keepsie. Now that a fund is being raised openly, especially for the purposes of carrying these states for the Democratic candidates, it is said that the work of carrying them will be so much the harder because it will be the more bitterly opposed on the part of the Republicans, who are also expected to have a little moiney for campain purposes.

GLADSTONE BEGINS WELL EVEN THE TORIES FIND LITTLE FAULT WITH BIS CABINET.

The " Thunderer " Mays the Make-up of the Ministry Will Make No Difference, as the Premier Intends to Run the Govern-ment Himself-Labouchere's Chagris, LONDON, Aug. 17,-The general criticisms on the new Cabinet are favorable. The Times says: "It is not without significance that Sir George O. Trevelyan's political promotion moves, like his political professions, in a circle. Baron Houghton is a surprise, but he possesses important qualifications for the part; and, in spite of the one obvious disadvantage which bespeaks public sympathy. there is every reason to believe that he will prove as efficient a representative of the sovereign as that mongrel, a Home-Rule Vicerov, can be. Taken as a whole the Ministry can scarcely be expected to display-with one or two exceptions—that independence of thought which was formerly supposed to be an honorable distinction of Liberal administrations. It approaches closely Mr. Gladstone's ideal of nimself as the Government and his colleagues the chief clerks, which he was unable to realize when he had independent colleagues like Lord Hartington, John Bright, the Duke of Argyle, and Joseph Chamberlain. Putting Lord Rosebery aside, the Cabinet is not likely to have much influence on Mr. Gladstone's

The Standard thinks Baron Houghton old enough to have given some evidence of the qualities essential to a statesman. It promises that the new Government will fail in the trial. Lord Rosebery's appointment, it says, is evidence of the conservatism with which his more advanced admirers have often reproached Mr. Gladstone, and is a warrant for predicting that Mr. Gladstone's bark will prove worse than his bite.

The Telegraph states that Lord Salisbury will accept no distinction from the crown except the privilege of wearing the Window uniform, which has only been granted during the present reign to Lord Melbourne, Lord Palmerston, and Earl Grey.

The Chronicle, Liberal labor organ, does not think the selection of Arnold Moorley for the office of Postmaster-General the best that could have been made.

There is keen disappointment among the Radicals over the exclusion of their class from the Cabinet, and the Conservatives note this as ominous for Mr. Gladstone's Irish programme, for which, it is asserted, the English Radicals care very little.

The Nar. Radicals asys that Mr. Gladstone has not altogether adequately recognized the necessity of the situation.

Therib, Mr. Henry Labouchere's paper, says:

"If the electors find that the Ministers, who owe their existence to a Radical trumph, are not prepared to use the weapons placed in their hands, then the people must properly decline to trust them, and will justly say there is no great difference, except in words, between the parties."

Michael Davitt, in a long article in the Pall Mall Gazelle, avows himself to be an advocate of labor on the issue of hours. Davit declares that the course of these habor representatives lacks political manliness, and is a mistake in tactics. The precedence, Davitt declares, of the Irish home rule question cannot under any circumstances, injure the lacor cause.

DUBLIN, Aug. 17.—All the newspaper of this city express surprise at the selection of Baron Houghton as Viceroy of Ireland. They say they believe that he will be popular, though he will be only a figurehead. It is not generally known that young Lord Houghton is the probable heir of Lord Crews, who is 80 years old, and a life-long friend of Mr. Gladstone. Lord Crewe lives a retired life at Crewe Hall, a stately place in Cheshire, where he can spend nothing like his income of £40,000 a year. One peculiarity of Lord Crewe is his fear of horses. He has no heir, and it is believed that the estates will ultimately pass to Lord Houghton. Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone, both looking bright and well, inspected the official residence in Downing street to-day, which the Premier is to occupy during his control of the Government. They planned various changes in the decorations and furnishings, and resurrected a number of articles belonging to them which had been stored in the cellar ever since Mr. Gladstone vacated the premises on the overthrow of his previous Ministry.

THE RUSE SAVED MANY LIVES. How Presence of Mind Averted a Disaster in a Burning Theatre in Italy. Rome. Aug. 17.-The theatre at Biella, in the province of Novara, was burned last night under thrilling circumstances. A play was soing on, when one of the performers noticed tiny He quietly called the attention of the stage manager to the circumstance, and the latter hastened, without giving any alarm, to investigate under the stage. On entering the door that led under the stage he was speedily driven back by the smoke, and saw at once that the place was on lire. The stage mana-ger kept his self-control, and returned to the stage, where one of the chief characters was about to appear.

The manager whispered the situation to the actor, and asked the latter to feign sickness when he went out to act his part, and thus give an excuse for stopping the performance. The actor did as suggosted. The audience arose in sympathy and excitement, and the stage manager, rushing forward, hurriedly said that, owing to the serious illness of the signor, the performance would have to close for that night. The doors were promptly thrown open, and the audience of 1,200 persons were hurried out.

Just as the last of the audience were leaving the flames began to burst through the stage, and, looking back, the people saw the real cause of their dismissal. The theatre was entirely destroyed, but no lives were lost.
